SOUTH HOLLAND, IL—South Suburban College (SSC) continues its efforts to provide flexibility to college degree seekers interrupted by the pandemic with a wide range of course delivery options for students to choose for the Fall 2021 Semester. While summer registration continues with online classes and a limited in-person schedule, the College announced the beginning of fall registration with its High Five modes of instruction:

1. In-Person Classes: In-person classes will be run at less than 50% classroom capacity with social distancing.
2. Online Classes: Online classes are delivered entirely through the D2L Virtual Classroom without scheduled class and lab times.
3. “Synchronous” Online Classes: Synchronous classes will be delivered entirely through the D2L Virtual Classroom. However, students are expected to be logged in at the scheduled class and lab times.
4. “Simulcast” Dual Delivery: Simulcast classes will provide limited in-person seating as well as online delivery using the D2L Virtual Classroom. Students must choose their preferred Simulcast mode section when registering. Online students are expected to be available virtually at the scheduled class and lab times.
5. Blended Classes: Classes will be delivered partially in-person, and in-part through the D2L Virtual Classroom at the scheduled class and lab times.
